Folklore

Doug Blandy, Program Director

109 Hendricks Hall

The interdisciplinary Folklore Program offers perspectives on ethnic, regional, occupational, gender, and other traditional identities of individuals in specific societies and cultures. Students in the program study the extent to which traditions enrich and express the dynamics of human behavior throughout the world. Folklore courses examine the historical, cultural, social, political, and economic dimensions of such expressive forms as mythology, legend, folktale, art, music, dance, culinary practices, religion, ritual, and ceremony. Theoretical analyses, research methods, and fieldwork techniques are integral parts of the curriculum.

The Folklore Program offers bachelor of arts, master of arts, and master of science degrees in folklore. An undergraduate minor is also available. Folklore courses cover an extensive range of interdisciplinary topics: cultural heritage, ethnicity, subcultures, popular culture, performance, gender, film, religion, public folklore, and issues of diversity and globalization. Folklore graduates work in public and private agencies as educators, archivists, editors, arts and humanities consultants, museum curators, and festival planners.

Resources

Film and Folklore
A strength of the program is its emphasis on the use of film and video. Training is available in equipment use, fieldwork methodologies, and editing.

Folklore Archive
The Randall V. Mills Archive of Northwest Folklore is a research repository available to folklore scholars and students. It houses raw field data, student and faculty research projects, and audio-visual materials including more than 7,000 slides. Located in 453 Prince Lucien Campbell Hall, the archive is open to the public.

Students may substitute courses to fulfill requirements with the approval of their major advisor. Programs from other departments or programs offering folklore-related courses include anthropology, arts and administration, classics, dance, English, ethnic studies, German and Scandinavian, historic preservation, humanities, international studies, journalism and communication, Judaic studies, music, religious studies, Romance languages, theater arts, and women's, gender, and sexuality studies.

Residency Requirement
Twenty-eight credits of upper-division course work for the major must be completed at the University of Oregon.

Advising
Majors should construct their programs in consultation with an advisor from the core folklore faculty. At least two terms before graduation, students who want to apply for a folklore degree should consult the program director to obtain authorization and course work approval.

Minimum Grade
Course work required for the folklore major, both lower division and upper division, must be passed with grades of C– or better. No more than 8 pass/no pass credits may be applied to the major.

Foreign Language Requirement
Majors must complete the university foreign-language requirement for the BA degree.

Minor in Folklore

Courses
The folklore minor requires the completion of 24 credits. Introduction to Folklore (FLR 250) is required of all minors. Remaining courses are selected from the list of courses on the Folklore Program website. Students may substitute courses from other departments to fulfill this requirement with the approval of their minor advisor. Programs from other departments and programs offering folklore-related courses include anthropology, arts and administration, classics, dance, English, ethnic studies, German and Scandinavian, historic preservation, humanities, international studies, journalism and communication, Judaic studies, music, religious studies, Romance languages, theater arts, and women's and gender studies.

Residency Requirement
Sixteen credits of course work for the minor must be completed at the University of Oregon.

Advising
Minors should construct their programs in consultation with an advisor from the core folklore faculty. At least two terms before graduation, students who want to apply for a folklore minor should consult the program director to obtain authorization and course work approval.

Minimum Grade
Course work required for the folklore minor, both lower division and upper division, must be passed with grades of C– or better. No more than 4 pass/no pass credits may be applied to the folklore minor.

- Master of Arts: General Folklore
- Master of Arts: Public Folklore
- Master of Science: General Folklore
- Master of Science: Public Folklore

Graduate Studies

The master of arts (MA) or master of science (MS) degree in folklore is interdisciplinary. In consultation with an advising committee, students take designated courses from faculty members in anthropology, arts and administration, English, folklore, German and Scandinavian, and music in addition to elective courses that strengthen their areas of expertise. A public folklore track is available to students preparing for careers in the public sector. A thesis or terminal project is required for completion of the degree. Students working toward an MA degree must demonstrate competence in a second language.

The Department of English’s PhD program offers a structured emphasis in folklore. For more information, see the English section of this catalog.

Admission Requirements

1. An undergraduate GPA of at least 3.30 (B+)
2. A minimum score of 153 on the verbal section of the general test of the Graduate Record Examinations (GRE), and a score of 4 or better on the analytical writing section (GRE-AW)
3. For nonnative speakers: a minimum score of 575 on the paper-based Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or a minimum score of 88 on the Internet-based test

Application procedures are listed on the program website.

Language Requirement for the MA Degree

The master of arts degree requires the satisfactory completion of a second-year level of proficiency in a second language, as required for the B.A. degree (see Bachelor’s Degree Requirements (http://catalog.uoregon.edu/admissiontograduation/bachelorrequirements) in the catalog for details). Competency may be demonstrated by either a standardized test or with adequate undergraduate course work. Language competence must be demonstrated within the overall seven-year limit for completion of a master’s degree.
