- School of Journalism and Communication—journalism: advertising; journalism: media studies; journalism: public relations.

Specific requirements of departmental honors programs are listed in the departmental sections in this catalog.

College Scholars Program

Through the College Scholars Program, high-achieving students can enrich an undergraduate degree program through interaction with some of the College of Arts and Sciences’ finest faculty members, unique course offerings, specialized research, and related learning opportunities. Students may join this program any time up to the end of the sophomore year. The program is described in the introductory section for the College of Arts and Sciences (http://catalog.uoregon.edu/arts_sciences).

Honors Lists

Dean’s List

The Dean’s List is announced after each fall, winter, and spring term. To qualify, a student must be an admitted undergraduate, complete at least 15 credits for the term, and have a term GPA of 3.75 or better: 12 of the 15 credits must be graded. Credits deducted for regression do not count toward the 15-credit requirement. Grade changes recorded through the second week of the subsequent term resulting in a change to the term GPA can affect the Dean’s List notation (removal or addition).

Junior Scholars

The 100 undergraduates with 90 to 134 credits, the last 45 taken at the UO, and the highest GPAs are named junior scholars by the Mortar Board senior honor society during winter term.

Latin Honors

Graduating seniors who have earned at least 90 credits in residence at the University of Oregon and have successfully completed all other university degree requirements are eligible for graduation with Latin honors. These distinctions are based on students’ cumulative GPAs at the University of Oregon and the percentile rankings in their respective graduating classes, as follows:

- Top 10 percent—cum laude
- Top 5 percent—magna cum laude
- Top 2 percent—summa cum laude

Postbaccalaureate students are not eligible for Latin honors. The Office of the Registrar computes Latin honors upon graduation.

Honor Societies

One means of recognizing outstanding students at the University of Oregon is through election to membership in a chapter of a local, national, or international honor society. Criteria for membership and the scope of activities vary. Some focus on scholastic achievement; others consider grades and other factors such as community service and leadership. Some honor societies select members by invitation only; for others, students must submit applications.

Initiation Fees

Many honor societies charge initiation fees. The Olwen William Harris Endowment Fund has been established to help students who cannot afford to pay initiation fees. To receive money from this fund, students must complete a request form, available from the Office of the Dean of Students. An advisory committee reviews all requests and dispenses the awards.

Honoraries Based on Scholarship

(membership by invitation)

Golden Key

Amy Neutzman, Advisor
541-346-3226
nuetzman@uoregon.edu

Golden Key national honor society recognizes scholastic achievement in undergraduate fields of study. Eligibility is limited to the top 15 percent of juniors and seniors. Students must have a 3.70 GPA and a minimum of 45 credits at the university to be invited. A membership reception is held in the spring, and two scholarships are awarded annually to outstanding junior and senior initiates. Initiation fee: $60.

Phi Beta Kappa Society

Kevin Hatfield, President
541-346-1977
www.uoregon.edu/~pbk

Founded in 1776, the Phi Beta Kappa Society is the oldest and most prestigious honor society in the nation. The UO has the only Phi Beta Kappa chapter in the Oregon University System.

The society honors students whose undergraduate academic records fulfill the objectives of a liberal arts education. Selection for Phi Beta Kappa is not automatic, but students do not have to apply or be nominated for consideration.

After screening academic records, a committee of Phi Beta Kappa members makes recommendations to the membership at large. Following an election meeting in late May, elected students are invited to join. Also elected are the Oregon Six—six students voted the most outstanding of those elected to membership that year. Students who accept the invitation to join are initiated before spring commencement. Initiation fee: $45.

Criteria for membership are listed on the Phi Beta Kappa website.
Students are typically invited to join the society shortly before they graduate.
