Due to the changes made to the FAFSA from the FAFSA Simplification Act, certain financial aid deadlines may have been extended for the 2024-2025 academic year.

Financial aid in the form of scholarships, grants, loans, and employment is available to eligible students who need assistance to attend school. The Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships provides counseling and information services to students and parents and administers a comprehensive program of financial assistance. Office hours are 8:00am–5:00 pm, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday, and 9:00 a.m.–5:00 pm on Wednesday. Drop-in counselors are available Monday through Friday, 9:00 am–11:45am and 1pm-3:45pm. Phone hours are also Monday through Friday, 9:00 am–11:45am and 1pm-3:45pm.

Federal and state regulations are subject to change and may affect current policies, procedures, and programs.

Estimated Student Expenses

The following information is provided to help students estimate the total cost of attending the University of Oregon.

Budgets established for financial aid purposes are based on average expenses. Some students have higher costs in a few categories. For example, students in various academic departments may have additional expenses for equipment, supplies, and field trips in addition to books. Students living alone in an apartment or in university housing may spend more than the budgeted amount for meals and housing, based on personal choice.

Residence hall room and board rates for 2024-25 range from $10,332 to $26,255. Cooperative housing costs are generally less than the minimum residence hall rate. Sorority and fraternity costs are typically higher.

Although the university does not require proof of health insurance for domestic students, the provisions of the Affordable Care Act may apply. International students are required to purchase health insurance. For more information about health services and coverage, please visit the University Health Services website. (https://health.uoregon.edu/)

Personal expenses are governed by individual preference but may include such items as transportation, health care, apparel, and entertainment.

The figures in the following table are the 2024-25 tuition and fees for an incoming undergraduate student enrolled in 15 credits and a graduate student enrolled in 9 credits. Due to Guaranteed Tuition (https://financialaid.uoregon.edu/oregon-guarantee/), rates and charges may vary by each individual student’s cohort year. UO charges by the credit hour. To view tuition and fees by residency and credit hour, please see the Tuition and Fees section of this catalog.

Applying for Financial Aid

Undergraduate, graduate, and law students use the following procedure to apply for financial aid:

1. Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) online. The official website is https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/fafsa/

2. List the University of Oregon (using code number 003223) on the FAFSA application as a school to receive the application information

3. Apply for admission to the University of Oregon

Deadlines

To be given priority consideration for the Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Federal Work-Study Program, and tuition waivers for all or part of any given academic year, a valid FAFSA must be received by the federal processor on or before March 1 prior to the academic year for which the student is applying. To meet this deadline, submit the FAFSA no later than February 15. The FAFSA is typically available on October 1 prior to the academic year for which the student is applying. Filling out the FAFSA electronically is the recommended method for submission.

Eligibility

Financial aid eligibility for any student is determined by the difference between the estimated cost of education at the University of Oregon and the student aid index (SAI) (as determined by the FAFSA) from the student’s family, the student and parents if the student is a dependent, or the student and spouse if the student is married. Students (and their families if appropriate) are expected to bear the primary responsibility for meeting educational costs. When a student’s SAI is less than the cost of education, the university attempts to meet the difference with need-based financial aid first, then attempts to fill the remaining difference with non-need based loans.

Assessing Financial Aid Eligibility

The university uses a method prescribed by law to determine a SAI from the student and family toward the cost of the student’s education. The SAI, derived from using the federal formula, is based on income and asset information as well as certain variables such as family size. This system ensures that students receive consistent and equitable treatment. Financial aid counselors review unique circumstances on a case-by-case basis, at the request of the student.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

To be eligible for financial aid, students must make satisfactory academic progress toward their degrees, maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA) and acceptable pace of completion, and graduate within the maximum time frame. Progress is reviewed annually at the end of spring term.

The minimum cumulative GPA needed to meet satisfactory academic progress is 2.00 for an undergraduate and 3.00 for a graduate student (except for law students seeking a JD or LLM degree, who require a 2.00 GPA). For more information on how your cumulative UO GPA is calculated, including how incompletes, withdrawals, or repetitions may affect your GPA, please visit the GPA calculator (https://registrar.uoregon.edu/current-students/grading-system/#calculating-a-grade-point-average). If a student’s cumulative GPA drops below the required minimum at the time of the evaluation, eligibility for financial aid will be suspended unless the student appeals and is approved for reinstatement. Students may also reestablish eligibility for the subsequent term after raising their GPA to the minimum requirement.

Pace of completion toward a degree is a further requirement, determined by dividing the number of credits attempted by the number of credits earned. Students are expected to earn credit for at least 67 percent of the credits attempted on an aggregate basis. Credit is earned for grades A, B, C, D, and P. Credit is not earned for grades F, W, I, Y, N, and X. A pace calculator (https://financialaid.uoregon.edu/pace_calculator) is located online.

Students must also complete their degrees within a maximum time frame. A student must graduate before accumulating 150 percent of the attempted credits required for completing his or her major. Most majors at the University of Oregon require 180 credits; 270 would be 150 percent of that. If a student is unable to fulfill the requirements for his or her degree before reaching this maximum time frame or the financial aid office determines that it is mathematically impossible to graduate within the maximum time frame, financial aid will be suspended.

Visit the Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarship website (http://financialaid.uoregon.edu/satisfactory_academic_progress/) for information on the appeals process.

Completely withdrawing from (or not passing any) courses during a student’s first term at the University of Oregon, or during any two consecutive terms, constitutes failure to meet satisfactory academic progress standards regardless of GPA, pace, or time frame.

For additional information, visit the Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarship website (http://financialaid.uoregon.edu/satisfactory_academic_progress/).

Financial Aid Packages

Students will receive notification of their offer after their financial aid eligibility has been established. The Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships attempts to offer financial aid to students up to their estimated cost of education, which could include scholarship and grant money, work-study, and loan eligibility.

A student may not receive assistance from any financial aid (Title IV) program if:

1. The student is in default on any educational (Title IV) loan
2. The student has borrowed in excess of federal (Title IV) loan limits
3. The student owes a refund on federal or state grants or a Federal Perkins Loan due to an overpayment
A parent may not borrow from the Federal Direct Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (Parent PLUS) if the parent or student is in default on any educational loan or owes a refund on an educational grant as described above.

There may be other conditions when a student would be ineligible for financial aid—for example, when a student is not maintaining satisfactory academic progress or when not enrolled in an eligible program.

Undergraduates

Federal Pell Grants, Oregon Opportunity Grants, and university scholarships are considered to be part of the student's financial aid package, even though the Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships may not determine eligibility for these programs.

The office determines the student’s eligibility for and the amount of assistance from the Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant and the Federal Work-Study Program.

Financial aid offers are made in accordance with federal and state regulations, as well as university policies. Some offers are tentative if selected for verification and may be revised after verification has been completed.

Graduate and Law Students

The Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships determines eligibility and the amount of assistance that may be received from the Federal Work-Study Program, Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan, and Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan. Offers are made in accordance with federal regulations and university policies.

Refunds and Repayment

Students who withdraw from school may be required to repay all, or a portion of, their financial aid. According to a formula prescribed by federal and state regulations, any refundable amount used to pay tuition and fees or for university housing is returned to the appropriate financial aid sources. Students may also be required to pay the unearned portion of assistance that was directly disbursed to them.

Additional information concerning the institution’s refund policy may be found on the website for the Office of the Registrar. (https://registrar.uoregon.edu/calendars/refund-schedules/)

Additional information concerning return of financial aid (http://financialaid.uoregon.edu/return_of_financial_aid/) and participation requirements (http://financialaid.uoregon.edu/participation/) may be found on the website for the Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships.

Notification of Financial Aid

Typically beginning in March, financial aid offers are mailed to first-year students who have supplied the necessary information to the Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships and the Office of Admissions. Financial aid offers are then mailed on a continuing basis to those entering students who supply the necessary information to the offices after the March 1 priority deadline.

When aid is accepted, the student (and spouse if married) and the student’s parents (if applicable) may be asked to provide documents, such as federal income tax returns (IRS Form 1040), to verify the information on the application.

Students should read the financial aid offer and instructions carefully.

An explanation of revision and appeal policies and procedures may be found on the financial aid website. A financial aid package may be revised when a student’s eligibility changes. The student receives a revised notification and, if necessary, is advised of any repayment of aid.

The federal regulations covering financial aid programs, the explanation of the federal method of determining student and family contributions, and the university policies and procedures for offering financial aid are available in the Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships. Students are welcome to review them during office hours or on the financial aid website.

Financial Aid Programs

To be eligible for certain financial aid programs that depend on federal or state funding, the student must be a citizen of the United States or in the United States for other than a temporary purpose and with the intention of becoming a permanent resident. Students who are citizens of the Freely Associated States (the Republic of the Marshall Islands, the Federated States of Micronesia, or the Republic of Palau) may be eligible for certain types of federal (Title IV) aid.

Financial aid is typically disbursed to students near the beginning of a term based on their enrollment at that time. However, financial aid is actually earned over the course of a term. Therefore, if a student completes a term at a different enrollment status than he or she began the term, some or all of the student’s financial aid may need to be returned.

Federal Pell Grant

This program provides grants (funds that do not require repayment, provided you meet the terms of the award) to eligible undergraduates who do not have a bachelor’s degree.

To be eligible for a Federal Pell Grant, a student must be admitted to the university in a program leading to a degree and enrolled in good standing. The amount of Federal Pell Grant funds a student may receive over their lifetime is limited to the equivalent of six years of Pell Grant funding.

The grant is reduced proportionately if the student is enrolled less than full time (12 credits a term).

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) determines eligibility based on the student’s and parents’ income and assets, or the student’s and spouse’s, if applicable. The university disburses the money.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)

Federal supplemental grants, which do not need to be repaid, provided you meet the terms of the award, are for undergraduates with exceptional need. To be eligible, a student must be admitted to the university in a program leading to a degree and enrolled in good standing. The amount a student receives is determined by university policy and fund availability.

Funds are granted to the university by the federal government to award to eligible students.
Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grants

The Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant is a federal grant that, although it does not need to be repaid, provided you meet the terms of the award, has special eligibility criteria. This grant is for undergraduates who

- are not eligible for the Federal Pell Grant on the basis of their SAI but meet the remaining Federal Pell Grant eligibility requirements
- have a parent or guardian who was a member of the US armed forces and died as a result of military service performed in Iraq or Afghanistan after the events of September 11, 2001
- were under 24 years old or enrolled in college at least part-time at the time of their parent’s or guardian’s death

Children of Fallen Heroes Scholarship

The Children of Fallen Heroes Scholarship is a federal grant that, although it does not need to be repaid, provided you meet the terms of the award, has special eligibility criteria. This grant is for undergraduates who

- are not eligible for a maximum Federal Pell Grant on the basis of their student aid index but meet the remaining Federal Pell Grant eligibility requirements
- have a parent or guardian who died in the line of duty while serving as a public safety officer
- were under 24 years old or enrolled in college at least part-time at the time of their parent’s or guardian’s death

Oregon Opportunity Grant

Oregon Opportunity Grants are awarded to eligible undergraduate Oregon residents who complete the FAFSA or the Oregon Student Aid Application (ORSAA).

A grant may be renewed for a total of 12 terms if the student applies each year, demonstrates financial need, is enrolled at least half time (6 credits a term) in a program leading to a degree, and has not completed a bachelor’s degree. In addition, the State of Oregon Office of Student Access and Completion (OSAC) may require that a student receive the Oregon Opportunity Grant during the fall term in order to have any eligibility for the remainder of the year.

OSAC determines eligibility and notifies the university. The funds are provided by the state and disbursed by the university.

University of Oregon Tuition Waiver (Grant)

The UO Tuition Waiver may remit (reduce) a portion of a full-time Oregon resident’s tuition charges, for undergraduates who demonstrate financial need and complete their FAFSA application by the published priority deadline. Funding is limited and the amount a student receives is determined by university policy and fund availability.

Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education Grant (TEACH)

The TEACH program provides up to $4,000 a year to students enrolled in an eligible education program and who agree to teach in a high-need field at a low-income school for at least four years within eight years of completing the program for which the grant was awarded. If these requirements are not met, the grant converts to a loan, interest is assessed retroactively, and the loan must be repaid.

Federal Work-Study Program

The Federal Work-Study Program allows students with financial need the opportunity to pursue a part-time job. Work-study students must be in good academic standing in an eligible program leading to a degree or certificate.

The amount of work-study a student may earn is determined by university policy and fund availability. Students earn an hourly wage based on the type of work, their skills, and their experience. Students may work a maximum of 25 hours a week while school is in session. Monthly timesheets are completed with the employer and pay is generated at the end of each month.

Students earn work-study funds by working on-campus or off-campus at approved governmental or non-profit agencies that perform services in the public interest. Information on available job opportunities and assistance locating a position can be found at the University Career Center website (https://career.uoregon.edu/).

William D. Ford Federal Direct Student Loan Program

Federal Direct Subsidized Loan

Students must demonstrate need to qualify for a Federal Direct Subsidized Loan. The university determines the amount the student may borrow within federal limits: $3,500 for the first academic year of undergraduate study (up to 44 credits); $4,500 for the second academic year (45–89 credits); and $5,500 an academic year for the remaining years of undergraduate study. Not all students are eligible for the maximums. The Federal Direct Subsidized Loan is for undergraduate students with financial need. The US Department of Education pays the interest on (subsidizes) a Direct Subsidized Loan while the student is enrolled, during a student’s grace period, and during a period of deferment.

Student borrowers must be enrolled at least half-time, in good academic standing and have been accepted for admission to an eligible program leading to a degree or certificate. Once repayment begins, borrowers are charged a fixed interest rate. The fixed interest rate is set every July 1. For loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2023 and before July 1, 2024, the interest rate is fixed at 5.5%. For loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2024 and before July 1, 2025, the interest rate is fixed at 6.533%. There is an origination fee of 1.057% for loans first disbursed on or after October 1, 2020 and before October 1, 2024.

Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan

Direct Unsubsidized Loans are available to students who do not qualify, in whole or in part, for the Direct Subsidized Loan. The university determines the amount the student may borrow within federal limits: $5,500 for the first academic year of undergraduate study (up to 44 credits); $6,500 for the second academic year (45–89 credits); and $7,500 per year for the remaining years of undergraduate study. The amount of Direct Subsidized Loan eligibility is subtracted from the Direct Unsubsidized Loan maximum amounts listed. Not all students are eligible for the maximums.

Direct Unsubsidized Loans are available to undergraduate and graduate students. There is no requirement to demonstrate financial need. The student is responsible for paying the interest on a Direct Unsubsidized Loan during all periods. If the student chooses not to pay the interest while in school and during grace periods and deferment or forbearance periods, the interest will accrue (accumulate) and be capitalized (that is, interest will be added to the principal amount of the loan).

A student’s financial need and dependency status determines the amount of the loan offered. Independent students, as defined by answers on the FAFSA, may borrow up to an additional $4,000 in their freshman and sophomore years and up to an additional $5,000 in their junior and senior years.

For undergraduate unsubsidized loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2023 and before July 1, 2024, the interest rate is fixed at 5.5%. For loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2024 and before July 1, 2025, the interest rate is fixed at 6.533%. There is an origination fee of 1.057% for loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2020 and before October 1, 2024. Interest that accrues during in-school, grace, and authorized deferment periods will be added to the principal when repayment begins. The interest rate for the Direct Unsubsidized Loan is a fixed rate set every July 1.

Graduate and law students may borrow up to $20,500 a year depending on their financial need. For graduate and law students with loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2023 and before July 1, 2024, the interest rate is fixed at 7.05%. For loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2024 and before July 1, 2025, the interest rate is fixed at 8.083%. There is an origination fee of 1.057% for loans first disbursed on or after October 1, 2020 and before October 1, 2024.

Additional Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan

Dependent undergraduate students whose parents are denied access to the Federal Direct Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (Parent PLUS) program may be eligible for additional Direct Unsubsidized Loan funds. Students with fewer than 90 credits may borrow a maximum of $4,000 per award year in additional funds above the maximum Federal Direct Loan limits. Students who have earned 90 credits or more may borrow a maximum of an additional $5,000 per award year. Not all applicants qualify for the maximums. The Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan may be used to replace expected family contribution, but the total borrowing for combined Direct Subsidized Loans and Direct Unsubsidized Loans cannot exceed the cost of education.

Generally, the cumulative amount a student can borrow from all Federal Direct Loans is as follows:

- $31,000 (only $23,000 may be subsidized) as a dependent undergraduate
- $57,500 as an independent undergraduate (only $23,000 of this amount may be subsidized)
- $138,500 as a graduate or professional student

Federal Direct Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (Parent PLUS)

This program provides loans to parents of dependent undergraduate students. Parents may borrow up to an annual amount that is equal to the cost of education minus any estimated financial assistance the student receives during the periods of enrollment. The borrower may use the amount of the Federal Direct PLUS to replace the expected family contribution for the loan period.

The Federal Direct PLUS is limited to parents who do not have an adverse credit history or who have obtained an endorser who does not have an adverse credit history or in default on federal loans. A direct loan servicer, contracted by the federal government, performs the required credit check. The interest on the Federal Direct PLUS is a fixed rate set every July 1. For loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2023 and before July 1, 2024, the interest rate is fixed at 8.05%. For loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2024 and before July 1, 2025, the interest rate is fixed at 9.083%. There is an origination fee of 4.228% for loans first disbursed on or after October 1, 2020 and before October 1, 2024.

Parents interested in participating in the Federal Direct PLUS program may apply for the loan by visiting the Federal Student Aid (https://studentaid.gov/plus-app/parent/landing/).

Federal PLUS Loan for Graduate and Professional Students (Graduate PLUS)

This program is offered to qualified students with or without financial need, but the student must have financial aid eligibility. Like other direct loans for students, the US Department of Education is the direct lender of the Graduate PLUS. Typically, repayment must begin within 60 days after the Graduate PLUS is fully disbursed. However, students who meet the requirements may obtain an in-school deferment from the US Department of Education. There is no grace period for this loan. Interest begins to accrue at the time the first disbursement is made at a fixed rate set every July 1. For loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2023 and before July 1, 2024, the interest rate is fixed at 8.05%. For loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2024 and before July 1, 2025, the interest rate is fixed at 9.083%. There is an origination fee of 4.228% for loans first disbursed on or after October 1, 2020 and before October 1, 2024.

Repayment

Payment of all Direct Loans are handled through an assigned direct loan servicer. To locate the appropriate direct loan servicer, the student may sign in to Federal Student Aid (https://studentaid.gov/).

Repayment of Federal Direct Loans (subsidized and unsubsidized) begins six months after termination of at least half-time enrollment. Repayment of Federal PLUS loans typically begins within 60 days of the last disbursement of the loan. A deferment may be requested after loan approval. Borrowers have the right to prepay their loans without penalty. Furthermore, they may choose from the following repayment plans:

- A standard repayment plan with a fixed payment amount (at least $50 a month) over a fixed period of time, not to exceed 10 years
- A graduated repayment schedule in which payments are lower at first and then increase, usually every two years, over a period of as much as 10 years
- An extended repayment plan with a fixed or graduated annual repayment of at least $50 a month over a period of up to 25 years, depending on the total amount owed
- Saving on a Valuable Education (SAVE) (formerly the REPAYE Plan) will calculate payments based upon income and family size up to 10% of discretionary income. After satisfying a certain number of months of qualifying payments, a borrower may have the remaining balance of the loan(s) forgiven.
- The Pay As You Earn (PAYE) plan is designed for students who borrower after October 1, 2017 with a prior loan disbursement on or after October 1, 2011. Payments are calculated based on upon income and family size up to 10% of discretionary income, but never more than you would pay under the 10-year Standard Repayment Plan.
• An income-based repayment plan designed to make repaying federal loans easier for students who intend to pursue jobs with lower salaries such as careers in public service. Monthly payments are capped at a percentage of the borrower's discretionary income, which is based on family size and income rather than total amount borrowed. Payments change as the borrower’s income changes and are made over a period of up to 25 years. Borrowers must update income and family size each year. Parent PLUS Loans are not eligible for this plan.

• An income-contingent repayment plan with varying annual repayment amounts based on the total amount owed and the annual income of the borrower (and that of the borrower’s spouse, if a joint return is filed) paid over a period not to exceed 25 years. Parent PLUS Loans may be eligible for this plan, if part of a Direct Consolidation Loan.
Borrowers must update income and family size each year.

If the borrower does not select one of these repayment plans, the Department of Education assigns the standard repayment plan. Visit the website (https://studentaid.gov/manage-loans/repayment/plans/) for details on all repayment plans.

The borrower’s repayment liability is discharged if the borrower becomes permanently and totally disabled or dies or if the student for whom a parent has borrowed dies. Federal Direct Student Loans are generally not dischARGEable in bankruptcy.

Deferring Repayment

Repayment of a Federal Direct Student Loan that is not in default may be temporarily deferred for: (https://studentaid.gov/manage-loans/lowerpayments/get-temporary-relief/deferment/)

• at least half-time enrollment in an eligible program at an eligible school

• an approved graduate fellowship program

• enrollment in an approved rehabilitation training program

• unemployment (up to three years)

• economic hardship or serving in the Peace Corps (up to three years)

• active duty military service in connection with a war, military operation, or national emergency or post-active duty service grace period

• a Parent PLUS Loan if parent borrower is enrolled at least half-time at an eligible college, in an eligible program

• cancer treatment

During periods of approved deferment, a Federal Direct Subsidized Loan borrower does not need to make payments of principal, and the interest is paid by the federal government. For the Federal Direct Unsubsidized or PLUS borrower, principal repayment may be deferred, but interest continues to accrue and is capitalized or paid by the borrower during that time.

Forbearance

A direct loan borrower or endorser may receive forbearance (https:// studentaid.gov/manage-loans/lower-payments/get-temporary-relief/forbearance/) from the federal government if the borrower or endorser is willing but unable to make scheduled loan payments. Forbearance is the temporary cessation of payments, an extension of time for making payments, or the temporary acceptance of smaller payments than previously scheduled. Forbearance may be granted for up to 12 months for reasons such as:

• financial difficulties

• medical expenses

• change in employment

• serving in a medical or dental internship or residency program

• the total amount a borrower owes each month for all student loans is 20 percent or more than the borrower’s monthly gross income (up to three years)

• serving in an AmeriCorps position for which the borrower received a national service award

• qualifying for partial repayment of loans under the U.S. Department of Defense Student Loan Repayment Program

• performing teaching service that would qualify the borrower for teacher loan forgiveness

• a member of the National Guard and has been activated by a governor, but not eligible for military deferment

• other reasons acceptable to your direct loan servicer

During forbearance, interest will continue to accrue on the principal balance. If you do not pay the interest as it accrues, the unpaid interest will be capitalized, added to the principal balance of the loan.

Deferrals and forbearance are handled by the assigned direct loan servicer. To locate the appropriate direct loan servicer, sign in to Federal Student Aid (https://studentaid.gov/).

Public Service Loan Forgiveness

The Public Service Loan Forgiveness Program (PSLF) forgives the remaining balance on your direct loans after you have made 120 qualifying monthly payments under a qualifying repayment plan while working full-time for a qualified employer. More information about the PSLF program may be found on the Federal Student Aid (https:// studentaid.gov/manage-loans/forgiveness-cancellation/public-service/).

Federal Direct Consolidation Loan

Loan consolidation is a way of lowering monthly payments by combining several federal loans into one loan at the time of repayment. Borrowers may consolidate any amount of eligible loans including those borrowed under the Federal Family Education Loan program, the Federal Perkins Loan program, and the Direct Loan Program. The interest rate is fixed at the time of consolidation based on the weighted average of the loans being consolidated. Repayment of Consolidation loans may extend to 30 years depending on the repayment plan selected and the amount borrowed. The result of a longer repayment term, however, is an increase in the total cost of the loan. More information about Direct Loan Consolidation can be found on the Federal Student Aid (https:// studentaid.gov/app/launchConsolidation.action/).
Entrance and Exit Counseling
First-time Direct Subsidized, Unsubsidized, and Graduate PLUS Loan borrowers must complete entrance counseling before a loan disbursement can be made.

Shortly before graduating from or terminating enrollment at the University of Oregon, borrowers must also complete exit loan counseling.

Both entrance and exit counseling sessions are completed at Federal Student Aid (https://studentaid.gov/).

Federal bankruptcy law generally prohibits student loan borrowers from the routine discharge of their federal student loan debt.

Alternative Loans
Privately funded loans are not based on need and no federal formula is applied to determine eligibility. However, the amount borrowed cannot exceed the cost of education minus other financial aid. Interest rates and repayment terms vary, but may be less favorable than those provided through the federal direct lending program. Private loans may be used to supplement the federal programs when the cost of education minus federal aid still leaves unmet need. Information is available in the Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships or on its website under Alternative Student Loans. (http://financialaid.uoregon.edu/alternative_loans/)

Debt Management and Default Reduction
The University of Oregon is committed to helping students achieve sound financial planning and debt management. Information about loans, repayment options, and debt management strategies are available in the Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships, on its website (https://financialaid.uoregon.edu/), and additional resources are available through the UO Financial Wellness Center (https://financialwellness.uoregon.edu/).

Scholarships
Scholarships Awarded by a Department or School
Undergraduate and graduate students who have selected a major field of study should consult the appropriate school or department about possible scholarships and application procedures and requirements.

Many departments offer assistantships and fellowships—which include an instructional fee waiver, a monthly salary, and health insurance benefits—to outstanding graduate students.

National ROTC Scholarships
The Army Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) Scholarship Program sponsors two-, three-, and four-year scholarship options based on the time remaining to complete a degree. These scholarships include full tuition and fees or the option for room and board in place of tuition and fees. It also provides an additional book allowance of $1,200 per year, and a monthly living allowance of $420 per month. The University of Oregon also provides an additional subsidy for a portion of the housing cost to qualifying students. For more information, contact the Department of Military Science at 541-346-3102 or email mcmahond@uoregon.edu. High school seniors may also apply online (https://www.goarmy.com/rotc.html/) for a four-year Army ROTC National Scholarship or contact their school’s career counselor.

National and Community Service Trust Act
This legislation created Americorps, which gives citizens the opportunity to perform community service in the United States and, for that service, receive an education award. This award can be used to pay for postsecondary education or to repay qualified student loans. Information about Americorps is available online.
