Our teaching is engaging, inclusive, and research-led. We seek to cultivate a synergy between academic and creative pursuits. We welcome risk-takers. We strive to experiment and invest in new creations while critically examining existing work. We look for opportunities to share music-dance knowledge and value all lived experience, all forms of education, and all fields of study that inform our artistic pursuits. We work to build and maintain a supportive environment so that our musicians and dancers feel safe to explore and flourish. The community is our classroom. Our area is full of off-campus arts organizations, performance venues, and creative opportunities, connecting student artists with the skills and information they need to effect positive change within their communities and move the fields of music and dance forward.

Performance Studies

Courses in performance studies are listed with the MUP subject code. Fees are required. These courses customarily include weekly lessons and studio master classes. MUP courses fall into two general categories:

- Basic and Intermediate Performance Studies: MUP 114, 115.
- Performance Studies: MUP 165, 265, 270, 365, 465, 635, 650, 665, 765.

Enrollment in any performance studies registration number between 165 - 765 must be preceded by an audition. Auditions are conducted to establish the appropriate registration number.

Students must register for at least 2 credits of performance study. Students will receive a minimum of nine lessons per term.

Enrollment in performance studies is sometimes limited because of faculty teaching loads. Under such circumstances, priority is given to continuing music majors. Students who are not assigned to a faculty member may study with a graduate employee for credit at extra cost.

Undergraduate Music Performance and Music Education students advance from one registration number to the next through area juries.

Performance studies courses carry 2 or 4 credits per term. Students giving recitals must be enrolled in performance studies. During the term of the recital, students may not enroll in Reading and Conference: [Topic] (MUS 405) or Reading and Conference: [Topic] (MUS 605) in preparation for their recital. Pre-recital hearings are required to evaluate the student's readiness for public performance. After the recital, a faculty evaluation is required. If approval is given, the recital is formally acknowledged as a fulfilled degree requirement.

For details concerning specific registration numbers, repertory, and any other questions, please contact the individual studio faculty members.

Music Performance majors whose primary instrument is piano have an accompanying requirement, described under the Bachelor of Music in Music Performance heading in the Undergraduate section.

Auditions

In many degree programs, the audition is the most important factor in determining admission to the School of Music and Dance. As part of the admission process, applicants to most music degree programs must either audition (in person or via recording) or submit a portfolio (the option for applicants to the music technology program). Students who submit recorded auditions may be required to audition in person upon arrival on campus. Auditions for admission are held in November, January, and February. Each student who auditions for admission is automatically considered for a music scholarship. For more detailed information about repertory and procedure, visit the School of Music and Dance admissions website (<http://music.uoregon.edu/apply/undergraduate-music/>). (<http://music.uoregon.edu/apply/>)

An audition is not required for admission to the BA or BS in music with Theory, History & Literature, General Music or Popular Music Studies concentrations. However, the Theory and History & Literature concentrations do have specific requirements for continuation in the program. See the Music Degree Program Continued Enrollment Requirements section below for details.

Jazz Studies

Students who want to enter the jazz studies major have a jazz audition. In addition, a placement examination specific to jazz studies is required of transfer students wishing to enter the program.

Music Technology

Students who want to enter the music technology program must submit a portfolio. A classical audition is not required for admittance to the bachelor or science music technology degree program. However, students admitted only on the basis of a portfolio are only considered for the music technology program and are not eligible to pursue other degree programs within the school.

English Language Proficiency

Scores for the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or International English Language Testing System (IELTS) are required for students whose first language is not English. For admittance as an undergraduate music major, English language proficiency requirements must be met by one of the following: a minimum total TOEFL score of 575 on the paper-based test or a minimum total score of 88 on the Internet-based test; a minimum total score of 7.0 on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS); or completion of all required Academic English for International Students (AEIS) course work.

Placement Examinations

Incoming music majors may take a musicianship diagnostic, which is designed to assess basic skills in theory, ear training and keyboard skills. All transfer students are required to take a music core placement examination, which determines level placement in music theory, aural skills, and keyboard skills courses. Exceptions may be made for students from institutions with whom the School of Music and Dance has a program articulation agreement, including Lane Community College and Mt. Hood Community College. For details, students should consult the Undergraduate Office (<https://music.uoregon.edu/current-students/undergraduate-music-students/>). Incoming freshman students may choose to take the music core placement exam (for the purpose of testing out of part of the music core). Study guides for the placement are available from the music undergraduate website (<https://music.uoregon.edu/current-students/undergraduate-music-students/>).

Admission to a Specific Degree Program

Students are placed in their primary program of choice, as indicated on their School of Music and Dance application, upon Initial admission to the school. Requirements for continued enrollment in music majors vary significantly, as outlined in the chart below. Additional information is available from the undergraduate office.

Program Overlap Limitations

Due to significant curricular overlap, concurrent pursuit of the following music programs is not allowed:

- Music minor with any other major or minor program in music
- Music technology major with music technology minor
- Music technology major with music production (previously audio production) minor
- Music major with general music or popular music studies concentrations with any bachelor of music (BMus) or bachelor of music in music education (BMME) degree

- Popular Music major with Music major (BA/BS), any bachelor of music (BMus), or bachelor of music in music education (BMME) degree

In addition, it is not possible to pursue a bachelor of arts or bachelor of science in music with multiple concentrations.

Exceptions to Ensemble Requirements

Students who meet one of the following exceptions are not required to audition for ensemble placement:

- Harp, classical guitar, harpsichord, and organ students may enroll in MUS 394 Chamber Ensemble: [Topic] (Chamber Ensemble) instead of the large conducted ensembles
- Jazz studies majors must enroll in three terms of classical ensembles, which may include MUS 394 Chamber Ensemble: [Topic], Band: [Topic] (MUS 395), Orchestra: [Topic] (MUS 396), or Chorus: [Topic] (MUS 397)
- With instructor approval, piano students may enroll in MUS 394 Chamber Ensemble: [Topic] (Accompanying) or MUS 421 The Collaborative Pianist, MUS 422 The Collaborative Pianist, MUS 423 The Collaborative Pianist instead of large conducted ensembles
- Composition students may enroll in three terms of gamelan in partial fulfillment of the requirement

- Studio guitar students may enroll in a chamber, studio guitar, or jazz ensemble instead of a large conducted ensemble
- Students pursuing the popular music studies concentration have nontraditional ensemble options and requirements. For details, see checklist.

Other exceptions to ensemble requirements may be considered by the ensemble petition committee after the student completes the following:

- auditions for the appropriate ensemble auditioning committee (choral or instrumental)
- submits a petition to the music undergraduate office

Satisfactory Progress toward the Degree

Satisfactory progress toward the degree is monitored every term by the SOMD Undergraduate Office. The following conditions must be maintained for good academic standing within the department:

1. Students must maintain a 2.75 GPA for all classes taken with the subject codes MUS, MUP, MUE and MUJ within a given term.
2. Courses must be taken for a grade if the graded option is offered. Majors must earn a C– or better in every course—including courses taken outside the School of Music and Dance—that is required for their major. A student who receives a grade of D+ or worse or a mark of W (withdrawal) or I (incomplete) for a required course is placed on departmental academic warning.
3. Candidates for the BMus, BMME, BA in Music (Theory concentration), or BS in Music (Music Technology concentration) must successfully complete the two-year musicianship core (with the exception of MUS 327 Analysis) within their first two years of residence.
4. Candidates for a BMus in Music Performance or a BMME in Music Education must advance to the next performance level at least once every seven terms.

Not meeting these requirements will result in initial academic warning status. If this status is not lifted by the end of the next term in which the student has had the opportunity to remedy the situation, the student will move on to a level II departmental academic warning. Failure to improve per conditions set forth in an advising plan following the warning will move the student onto probationary status and subsequent failure to improve thereafter will result in dismissal from the music major.

Reinstatement to the major may occur upon review by the SOMD Undergraduate Office and determination that the student has fulfilled the conditions listed above for satisfactory standing.

Undergraduate music majors re-enrolling after two or more consecutive terms of non-enrollment in the music major curriculum (excluding summer session) are required to petition for readmission to the music major. Depending on the results of this petition, a student may be required to reapply for music major admission through standard music admission processes or re-audition for level placement in performance studies as a music major. Placement exams in theory, aural skills, and keyboard skills may also be required. In addition, undergraduate majors admitted to a specific degree program prior to being un-enrolled for two or more consecutive terms may also be required to re-apply for admittance to that specific degree program by their major department or area. Students studying abroad or in an approved exchange program are exempt from the readmission petition requirement.

Specific Degree Requirements

Minimum requirements for a bachelor's degree in music are 36 credits in the major, including 24 upper-division credits. In addition to general university requirements and the general requirements for all undergraduate music degrees, each undergraduate music degree has the following specific requirements.

Entrance Examinations

Before their first term of enrollment, students who are admitted into a graduate music degree program must take the Graduate Entrance Examination in music theory, aural skills, and music history. The outcome of these exams determines whether graduate music students may register for graduate-level music theory and musicology courses or if subsequent courses will be required to meet the proficiency requirement. Students in the graduate certificate in music performance program are not required to meet the Graduate Entrance Examination proficiency level but must pass the Graduate Entrance Examination in order to meet prerequisites to register for graduate-level music theory and musicology classes.

The Graduate Entrance Examination is administered before each fall term during Week of Welcome. Students are required to either pass the GEE or pass required remedial course work in order to meet the proficiency requirement. Students who fail to pass the examination or pass required remedial undergraduate course work by the end of fall term in their second year will be dismissed from the program.

Students who fail the Graduate Entrance Examination in music theory and/or aural skills (i.e., earn a score of less than 70 percent) will be required to take the undergraduate theory placement exam, the undergraduate aural skills placement exam, or both. Based on the results of the placement exams, students will be required to take the appropriate undergraduate music theory and/or aural skills courses to meet the proficiency requirement. Students who are required to take undergraduate core courses in the first and second years of their program may retake the GEE at the beginning of the second year to satisfy the Level IV requirement. For more information, please see the music school's Procedures and Policies (<https://blogs.uoregon.edu/gradmus/procedures-policies/>).

Students scoring between 50 and 69 percent on the music history portion of the GEE are required to take and pass an additional music history survey course from the MUS 660–665 series (in addition to any MUS 660–665 courses required for the degree). Based on the test results and demonstrated areas of weakness, members of the musicology faculty determine one or two of the survey courses to be taken by the student.

Students scoring below 50 percent are required to pass History of Music 800 to 1600 (MUS 267), Survey of Music History 1600 to 1800 (MUS 268), and Survey of Music History 1800 to Present (MUS 269).

Master's Degree Requirements

In addition to the University of Oregon Division of Graduate Studies' requirements for master's degrees, the School of Music and Dance has the following requirements. For additional information, contact the music graduate office or consult the Info for Grad Students (<https://music.uoregon.edu/current-students/info-graduate-music-students/>) webpage.

A minimum of 9 credits must be taken in 600- or 700-level courses and at least one-half of the required credits must be in courses intended for graduate students only. Degree candidates must complete a terminal project (e.g., recital, thesis, project), all of which must be archived in one of the following locations: Music Services in Knight Library, Scholars' Bank, ProQuest, or Cykler Music Education Library.

Doctoral Program Requirements

Comprehensive Examinations

Written and oral comprehensive examinations are taken before advancement to candidacy but after meeting the following conditions:

1. Completion of all course work and additional requirements
2. Approval from area advisor

Additional information about comprehensive examinations is available from the music graduate office and the advisor.

Advancement to Candidacy

Advancement to candidacy is based on successful completion of the comprehensive examination, approval by the advisory committee of the dissertation or lecture-document proposal, and the recommendation of the advisor.

Dissertation

A dissertation is required in all doctoral degree programs except the DMA in performance, for which a lecture-document that focuses on some aspect of the performance medium may be substituted. Students in the DMA data-driven instruments track are required to complete a digital portfolio dissertation.

For PhD composition, the dissertation must be an original composition of major proportions composed during doctoral study and performed and recorded on the University of Oregon campus.

Time Limit

Doctoral students have seven years from the term of matriculation to complete the degree. All course work, comprehensive examinations, any required recitals, and the dissertation must be satisfactorily completed before the end of the seven-year period. If this period is exceeded, an additional year of residence or a new set of comprehensive examinations or both are required.

Research (MUE or MUS 601), Dissertation (MUE or MUS 603), and Reading and Conference (MUE, MUJ, or MUS 605) are available during summer session only with advisor's consent.

Final Oral Defense

A final oral defense is required in all degree programs. The candidate is expected to defend the dissertation or lecture-document and show a command of the research area. Members of the dissertation or lecture-document advisory committee typically conduct the final examination; their appointment is subject to approval by the Division of Graduate Studies.
